A Man Who Wasn't Elated Over Becoming

Man Who Wasn't Elated Over Becoming a Millionaire.

We stated yesterday, on the authority of a street rumor, that an uncle of Michael Hogan, of West Troy, died recently in Pennsylvania, leaving coal mines valued at $5,000,000, to a portion of which Michael is heir. The rumor was correct. Forty years ago Michael Hogan, then twenty-one years of age, and an uncle, the only survivor of a once numerous family, came to this country and adopted the only survivor of a once numerous family, came to this country and adopted it as their own. Michael, a hard-working, industrious young man, finally took up his residence in West Troy. The uncle went to Pottsville, Penn., or that vicinity, and, after laboring a number of years, purchased with his earnings a large tract of land. Michael also saved money, and in the course of time laid by enough to start himself in the grocery business, in which it can be truthfully said he has prospered. The venture of his uncle turned out to be a most profitable one. The lands purchased by aim were found to contain abundance of coal, and by judicious management he graduand by judicious management he gradu-ally increased his earthly store until at the time of his death, which occurred a few days ago, he was worth about $5,000,-000. Last week Michael received information from an attorney that his uncle, with whom he had not communicated for sixteen years, had died, and that he for sixteen years, had died, and that he was his only surviving heir. Michael was not at all elated at this announcement, and appeared rather sorry in fact that such a good fortune should come to him. He was getting old, he said, and would want no such money, besides he had enough for himself, wife and daughter, and the possession of the immense amount mentioned above would only bring trouble and disgrace upon his family eventually, as young people howards sid not know how to spend money. As we have stated, Michael is a sober, industrious man, and is every way worthy of his fortune, which he intends to claim next week. If he is so sorry about this matter he can turn it over to us, and we'll cheerfully bear the burden for him.—Troy (N. Y.) Times.

A young gentleman who attends the Austin, (Nev.) public school had been told, says the Reveille, that a sudden shock or fright would cure the hiccough, and the other evening, while he was studying his lesson for the morrow by drawing a picture of the schoolma'am on his slate, his respected progenitor was seized with a fit of hiccoughs. The old gentleman was tilted back in his chair, with his ieet resting on the top of the with his eet resting on the top of the stove, and the young hopeful concluded to try the cure on him. Just as the oluman was "rastling" with a heart-breaking hic the boy jumped up and yelled "Fire!" The old man was just getting out cub, cub but as payer rot it out the out cub—cuh, but he never got it out. He gave a jump which tilted over the chair, and in endeavoring to regain his lost equilibrium his feet flew up against the table, upsetting it and a student lamp which stood upon it, and his head landed in the same un the stoye hearth. The old lady, hearing the racket, came running in from the kitchen, and tripped over the old man's prostrate form, knock-ing down a what-not with a lot of glass and China ornaments. When that boy's lather arose from the wreck and shock the ashes and splinters of glass out of his hair and clothes he was cured of the hic-coughs, but there was a look of sternness in his eye; the boy says he knows it was a "stern" look—leelingly "stern," as he can testify. He says fright is a splendia cure for the "hicoups," but that the "stern" look it occasions is three hundred thousand times worse than the hichestern was a say to say the say. cups. He can't play tag now, as he says his mother has forbidden him, and he sits on the edge of the seat at school, and lies on his front when in bed, and silently murmurs that the old man can hiccup his consuraed old head off before he will

By this new practice the curative agent is conveyed directly to the seat of the disease—the parts affected are at once addressed by the remedy as surely, as effectively, as safely as an application can be made to any part of the body, and the result is really wonderful; the cough abates, the night swests cease, the soreness and pain subside, and the patient feels relief from the first hour of using the remedies, and hope based upon reason takes the place of the dark forebodings his disease had created. Of course the tubercular diathesis demands for its correction the most efficacious constitutional treatment; and this is embraced in the new system. All who have made proper trial of the Aerian system commend it highly. Joshua Jones, the Celebrated Furniture Mann-incturer of Cincinnati, was Cured of Consump-tion, and, in a Letter, Thus Speaks of the Cure:

From the first week of using Dr. Ayer's new remefirst week of using Dr. Ayer's new remedies, I began to improve in every respect, although wasted and greatly emaciated, and expectorating nearly a quart of mattere very day of my life, and with a terrible cough, still I began to gain, and my improvement has continued to the present time. At first I could not walk three blocks, but I can now walk as many miles with little fatigue. I have gained more than forty pounds in weight, my cough has ceased, and my whole appearance mas changed, and I now enjoy perfect neath. This wonderful change is due to the skill of Dr. I.
